Re - James ) Gillen
              ) Stumpy)

Called at Poor Farm, Georges Road, Milltown, N.J., where I interviewed Jack Caldwell, inmate, to learn with what Circus Gillen formerly formerly connected. Informed he was in employ of Barnum & Bailey for about seven (?) years as a train man loading and unloading the circus trains and wagons.

Caldwell says he only came to Gillen's during winter season. That he was on road all summer with circus. That during the years of his visits here, there was no women about the place. No entertainment by women and the only woman about Gillen's was the housekeeper, Sadie Stewart, who married a man by name of Henry Rosenberg. Says Sadie Stewart is now dead and does not know where Rosenberg might be located.

Says he never knew Anna King or May Kay, & etc. Could not recognize picture of Anna King I showed him. Said other men were out to see him and also showed him picture and that he told them the same thing.

Did not know Minnie LaTourette or Gussie LaTourette, nor Lizzie Scott.

Said all the old frequenters of years around 1898-1900 at Gillen's Road House are now dead, with exception of Dan Maloney.

Does not know who conducted Gillen's previously.

Respectfully submitted,

Thomas L. Harrison.
